

Harvest Fire Prevention

You're ready for a full week of harvest. The weather is perfect, fields are dry and the wind is blowing.

As beautiful as the weather is, dry, windy harvest conditions create a potential for dangerous combine and field fires.

Protect yourself and others by making sure your combine is equipped with two ABC type fire extinguishers -one in the cab and one at ground level. Be sure to place fire extinguishers in other equipment you will use in the field. Keep a small shovel in your cab to throw soil on a fire and always keep a cell phone close by.

Prevent fires by keeping your combines free of debris and in good working order.

Harvest time is an important time to remember fire safety.
